DEATH

On July 7th, at Shanghai, A. M. WILSON, marine engineer, aged thirty years.

HONGKONG OFFICE: 10A, DES VEGES ROAD. LONDON OFFICE: 131, FLEET STREET, E.C.

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JULY 15TH, 1910.

THE serenity of Macao has been rudely disturbed. Not for many years has it been the scene of such extensive military operations as have been deemed necessary to cope with the present outbreak, and making every allowance for exaggerations in the excitement of the moment and the difficulty of obtaining precise information, there is every reason for believing that the alarm occasioned has been justified. The emuets on the island of Colowan has undoubtedly assumed serious dimensions, and, though at the time of writing, the rebels have not been subdued, there is every probability that the military force which the Portuguese are able to command will be sufficient to restore law and order. The outbreak, however, has more than a local significance. It shows that piracy is still a factor, and an important factor, on the Kwantung coast, despite the number of gunboats of various nationalities operating in these waters, and that, as in the early days of foreign trade, these pirates are inclined to regard themselves more as patriots than pirates. It seems fairly reasonable to suggest that this rising owes its origin in some degree to the anti-Portuguese agitation which has been waged so vigorously by many Chinese of late. The delimitation of the boundaries of Macao is a subject in which the local Chinese have taken a very keen interest, and whether their protests have been inspired by old-time prejudice against the presence of foreigners or whether they honestly believe that the Portuguese have been encroaching on Chinese territory is debatable, but it is certain that considerable ill-feeling has been stirred up against the representatives of that nation. That being so, it is easily understood that it only required a favourable opportunity for this to find expression in open hostility. The arrival of a band of pirates, whose numbers are estimated at anything from two hundred to a thousand, gave the needed impulse to villagers any thing but sympathetic towards Portuguese government. To people in their sober senses it must have been perfectly obvious that any local attempt to overthrow the Portuguese rule was foredoomed to failure, but hatred and prejudice must have blinded them to this. At any rate they were apparently resolved on the effort. A certain amount of method in their madness has been exercised. They have taken advantage of the natural resources of the island to erect forts, behind which granite shelters they would be perfectly safe from ordinary rifle fire. In addition they have been able to secrete arms and ammunition. Probably they hoped by boldness of policy to counterbalance lack of numbers, and it looked as if they were sanguine enough to expect to surprise the garrison. However, their efforts have failed, and their submission is now only a question of time. Of course, many will see in this outbreak another manifestation of the general unrest which is prevalent in China at present. In some instances the disaffection is described as anti-dynastic, in others it is regarded as anti-foreign, and in others again it is due to economic causes, to scarcity of food. The anti-foreign element may in some degree have influenced the villagers to rise in revolt, but to us the outbreak suggests simply a recrudescence of piracy. From various sources there have come reports that the Canton river and adjacent waters are infested with these pests. Only the more daring outrages committed by these men seem to gain publicity, but there can be no doubt that this menace to trade continues. The numerous islands at the mouth of the Pearl River have always been the resort of piratical hordes, and it is a matter of history that at the beginning of last century they had formed a powerful confederacy, whose sphere of operations was only confined by its sense of power. When in sufficient force and their prey sufficiently weak and tempting they never hesitated to attack European ships. The authority of the Ladrões, as they were called, from the Portuguese word, extended along the coast from Tonkin to Fochow, and though their object was plunder they seemed to regard themselves as patriots because they attacked foreign merchantmen. As we know, the confederation was destroyed and the bands were broken up, but in spite of that, and notwithstanding the increased number of foreign and Chinese gunboats on the river, piracy is still a subject of complaint. Doubtless the present band, combining pseudo-patriotism with prospects of greater plunder, induced the villagers to make common cause with them. That the Chinese regard the event as a piratical attack is suggested by their offer of assistance and the presence of their gunboats, and their anxiety that the pirates should not escape seems perfectly feasible. Were this band captured it would have a beneficial effect. It would tranquillise traders who must feel uneasy to know that so many pirates are at large, and it would be a service which the Chinese Government ought to appreciate.

It is reported that His Excellency Wu Ting Fang has sent a memorial to the Throne advocating the abolition of the queue.

H. E. the Officer Administering the Government will patronize the promenade concert promoted by the Kowloon Cricket Club, to be held on Saturday evening, 23rd inst.

We have received from Messrs. Thos. Cook & Son a copy of "Australia To-day," a pretty and useful publication describing the resources of the Commonwealth and its agricultural, pastoral and industrial possibilities.

The new regulations for through passenger traffic on Japanese and Russian railways will come into force on September 1, instead of July 1, owing to a reduction from July 14 of the 2nd and 1st passenger fares by the Siberian Railway, which requires the printing of new tickets. The new 2nd and 1st class fares are 13 1/2 and 20 1/2 respectively, instead of 12 1/2 and 20 1/2 times as heretofore. For the detailed provisions for the joint freight traffic by the Chinese Eastern and South Manchurian Railways, an expert on freight calculation is to be sent to St. Petersburg by the Imperial Railway Board.

A new industrial enterprise in Java is that of the manufacture of lucifer matches. An Arab at Sourabaya has started a factory of this kind to compete with the imported Japanese matches. Certain experts maintain that the Japanese article holds the field in quality and price.

We have received from the American Consulate-General at Hongkong notice of the following typhoon warning transmitted from the Manila Observatory:—Manila, 14th, 11.40 a.m.—Low-pressure area extending from the China Sea to the Pacific across northern Luzon and the Balintang Channel. A real typhoon may develop later.

The fifty-first anniversary of the opening of Yokohama to foreign trade—to be known henceforth as Yokohama's Souvenir Day—was celebrated on July 1st by the Municipality at the Social Club. The national flag and the new Municipal flag were displayed by Japanese citizens in honour of the event, while flags were also displayed by a number of foreign firms.

On Thursday afternoon, says the Hankow Daily News, a chit coolie who has been in the employ of Mr. Monbaron for the last ten years, was despatched to the Chartered Bank to draw the sum of $300.00; this commission the coolie carried out correctly and returned with the book, but immediately decamped with the money. As the missing coolie is a native of a village situated some 50 li down river the help of the native authorities has been requisitioned and a warrant issued for his arrest.

Messrs. Malchers & Company, local agents, have received the following letter from the head office of the Royal Insurance Co., Ltd., Liverpool:—"We have pleasure in directing your attention to the continued prosperity of our operations. The Fire Premiums have now reached the record figure of £3,788,333, and for the ninth quinquennium in succession the bonus of policy-holders in the Life Department has been maintained at the rate of 30s per centum per annum. The total funds of the Company now amount to £16,630,266, thus affording absolute security for the guarantee of our engagements."

The sudden rise in wages arising from the heavy demand for labour in opening up new rubber estates in Java has had a demoralising effect on the coolie class there. It is said that an increased wage does not spur the natives to work more. When a Javanese earns in five days what it formerly took him nine days to get, the usual result is that he knocks off and remains idle for the remaining four days. This disinclination to work even when coolies are well paid renders the labour question in Java more difficult. The increase in wages now only beginning will soon raise the cost of production until it will become burdensome on the smaller estates. Should the labour shortage once set in, the heavily capitalised estates will, it is thought, have bad times.

FRENCH NATIONAL FETE.

Canton, 13th July.

The members of the French Community of Shanghai are making great preparations for their National Fête which takes place to-morrow. The beautiful French gardens have been installed with electric lamps and the Post Office and other buildings have scaffolding round them which will be utilised for illumination purposes. Sports are also to be held, in the morning at 8.30 for the sailors of the French gunboat and at 3 p.m. for the civilians. One of the items of these sports, "jeu de cochen", promises to be amusing. From 11.15 to 12.15 there is to be a reception at the French Consulate, and the day's amusements are to end with a display of fireworks. The following is the official programme:

VICE-ADMIRAL SIR ALFRED WINSLOE.

Vice-Admiral Sir Alfred Winsloe, in command of H. B. M. China Station on board the despatch vessel Alacrity, 700 tons, with two torpedo-boat destroyers Hurt and Oster, sailed into the port of Port Arthur on Sunday morning, July 3rd, and cast anchor near the Japanese despatch boat Swanya. There was an exchange of salutes between the British arrival and the Japanese despatch-boat Swanya and the Portuguese cruiser Vasco da Gama. The Vice-Admiral with ten officers went ashore and called on Gov. Gen. Viscount Oshima, Vice-Admiral Baron Tomi Shiraui, who later returned the visit. In the afternoon Vice-Admiral Winsloe and staff went on a round of visits to places of interest on shore and dined in the evening with Vice-Admiral Tomioka. The distinguished visitor and party continued their sightseeing and next day dined with Gov. Gen. Oshima in the evening. The British warships were to leave Port Arthur on the following Wednesday morning.

THE RUSSO-JAPANESE AGREEMENT.

LONDON, July 13th.

The text of the Russo-Japanese treaty published at St. Petersburg agrees with that published by Reuter on the 8th instant.

The Russian and Japanese Ambassadors, in communicating the treaty to the German Foreign Office, pointed out that it constituted a further guarantee of the peace of the Far East, and did not affect the principle of the open door.

The German Foreign Secretary replied that he trusted the open door policy would be assured for Germany in economic efforts.

[The Imperial Government of Japan and the Imperial Government of Russia sincerely attached to the principles established by the convention concluded between them on the 30/17 July, 1907, and desirous to develop the effects of that convention with a view to the consolidation of peace in the Extreme East, have agreed to complete the said arrangement by the following provisions.]

Article 1.—With the object of facilitating communication and developing the commerce of nations, the two high contracting parties mutually engage to lend to each other their friendly co-operation with a view to amelioration of their respective railway lines in Manchuria and the improvement of the connecting service of the said railway and to abstain from all competition prejudicial to the realization of this object.

Article 2.—Each of the high contracting parties engages to maintain and respect the status quo in Manchuria resulting from the treaties, conventions and other arrangements concluded up to this day between Japan and Russia, or between either of these two powers and China. Copies of the aforesaid arrangement have been exchanged between Japan and Russia.

Article 3.—In case any event arises of the nature to menace the status quo above mentioned the two high contracting parties shall in each case enter into communication with each other in order to arrive at an understanding as to the measures they may judge necessary to take for the maintenance of the said status quo.

Signed by the respective representatives (Japanese Ambassador Baron Motono and the Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs) on the 4th July, 1910.]

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, July 14th.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR MR. F. A. HAZELAND (ACTING PUISNE JUDGE).

CLAIM FOR GOODS SOLD.

The Chun On firm brought action against Tang King to recover $347.90 due for goods sold and delivered.

Mr. Leo d'Almeida e Castro appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Davidson (of Messrs. Hastings & Hastings) represented the defendant.

Mr. Davidson applied for security and costs, which was given as a matter of course where a plaintiff had changed his address during the course of an action. In that the plaintiff's address was No. 2, Graham Street, but as a matter of fact they were no longer carrying on business there or anywhere else.

His Lordship—You must put that on affidavit. Mr. Davidson—The facts are admitted.

Mr. Almeida—They are not. The Chun On commenced this action on May 27th, and on June 20th they sold their business less this particular debt, and I now wish to apply to the Court for leave to amend the writ by adding the names of the partners. Where a firm does not carry on business, and sue for a debt, it is clear that the partners' names shall be inserted.

His Lordship (to Mr. Davidson)—Have you any objection to that?

Mr. Davidson—No objection to the amendment.

His Lordship—And you say you are entitled to security for costs in these circumstances.

Mr. Almeida—I submit he is not.

Mr. Davidson—The facts alleged by my friend do not alter the position at all. The Chun On are still the plaintiffs, they have left their address as a firm, and have sold their business with the exception of this particular debt. There is now no firm to which the defendant can look for payment of costs if he wins this action. I think it is a settled practice that where a plaintiff changes his address, security for costs should be given.

His Lordship—Have you any authority?

Mr. Davidson—Not at the present moment.

Mr. Almeida—It is settled practice where a man leaves the jurisdiction.

His Lordship—Supposing you lose your case, the defendant cannot go against the Chun On for costs.

Mr. Almeida—No, but he can go against the partners since I have amended the writ.

His Lordship—Supposing this transaction happened before the writ was issued, you could not get security for costs then.

Mr. Davidson—No, but the facts really throw a doubt on the bona fides of the plaintiffs.

His Lordship—That may be so on the merits, but I understand they are living at the place where the shop was.

Mr. Davidson—They have sold the business to another firm. No doubt they are sitting down in the premises, but I don't think that is sufficient.

Mr. Almeida—My friend has his remedy against the partners.

Mr. Almeida then informed the Court that the various items in the claim were for rice sold and delivered.

After taking evidence his Lordship reserved his decision.

FATALITY IN SHANGHAI.

ENGINEER'S PROULIAN DEATH.

Late on the afternoon of July 7th, the police authorities received notice that a fatal accident had occurred under peculiar circumstances in a house at No. 22, Quinzen Gardens, Shanghai.

The victim of the occurrence was a Mr. A. E. Wilson, who is believed to be a second engineer, though at the time out of employment, and the circumstances attending his end are of a distressing and at the same time rather mysterious nature. Seen alive and well at 11.15 a.m., he was a couple of hours later found with a wound in his head, and following upon a fall downstairs which took place immediately after the discovery of his injury death supervened.

After the deceased had gone upstairs to his room, and in the course of the afternoon one of the residents in the house, Mr. J. Singer, heard a noise proceeding therefrom. It seemed as if Wilson had fallen once or twice, and on reaching the bedroom Mr. Singer was surprised to find blood pouring from a wound in his head. No explanation of what had happened was given, and recognising that the man was evidently hurt badly Mr. Singer ran off to secure medical assistance. No sooner, however, had he reached the foot of the stair than he was horrified to see Wilson stagger out of his room, and before anything could be done to stop him he was half sliding, half falling down. As he reached the foot Mr. Singer caught him, thus preventing further injury to his head, and laying him down upon the sofa, and calling for a doctor.

Without loss of time the ambulance van arrived, and the injured man, who had now lost all consciousness, was carried into it. As it was about to drive off, Dr. Freeman arrived, and examining the body pronounced life to be extinct. The tragedy had taken only a short time to enact, and the police and British authorities were then notified.

FIGHTING AT MACAO.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

VILLAGERS STILL TREBUCLANT.

Macao, July 14th.

The fighting on the island of Colowan has ceased, but the rebellion is not by any means ended. The villagers are still very truculent and refuse to come to terms with the authorities.

In my last account of the revolt I reported that the village had been bombarded by the artillery and reduced to ashes, but the inhabitants, together with the pirates, have not yet been subdued. They have taken refuge behind the granite forts erected on various parts of the island, and these will be subjected to another bombardment if the inhabitants do not submit and tender their allegiance to the Macao Government.

Martial law has been proclaimed in the territories of Taipa and Colowan.

Opinions vary as to the number of rebels. The village of Colowan has a population of some where about two thousand, and not being very sympathetic towards the Portuguese they have thrown in their lot with the pirates, who are supposed to number at least two hundred. Some estimates place their force at a thousand, but that is most probably an exaggeration.

As far back as May 5th the pirates were known to be operating in the neighbourhood. About that time a petition was presented to His Excellency the Governor, in which it was stated that some hundred pirates had landed at the village of Tong Hang in the Sun Hing district and attacked a school, carrying off seventeen students and an servant, whom they held to ransom for $35,000. Complaint was addressed to the Governor by Chan Chut, a Hongkong merchant, the father of one of the students.

The casualties have been very heavy on the rebel side. A considerable number have been killed and wounded. The Portuguese have three soldiers killed and several wounded.

The island is very difficult for military operations. The Macao granite which comes from this island, has been utilised to erect forts all over the place, and sheltered behind these the rebels were able to pour a deadly fire into any approaching force. The first detachment which came to the assistance of the beleaguered guard would have been annihilated had it not been withdrawn. Not only did the women throw stones at the soldiers, but the latter were exposed to a withering fusillade from above.

The destruction of the village has practically put an end to the fire of the villagers and the pirates, but they have to be dislodged from their refuge before hostilities can be said to be concluded. The villagers have been warned that if they do not make their submission by to-day the island will be again bombarded. The gunboat Patrie has also proceeded to the island, and her guns, with those of the Macao, will co-operate with the five mountain guns brought by the artillery. Under the protection of such a bombardment a party will be landed to drive the rebels from their lair.

The Chinese authorities are keenly interested in the suppression of the revolt. They have offered their assistance to the Portuguese authorities, but it was not accepted. A Chinese gunboat and several war junks are in attendance. Probably the Chinese are anxious to see the pirates rooted out. At any rate, it is reported that the war junks are behind the island, apparently watching that the pirates do not make their escape.

HONGKONG PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

The report of the Philharmonic Society for 1909-1910 states:—

The Membership of the Society is now 118, showing a gratifying increase. As in the last season the Society gave two concerts.

The first concert was held in St. George's Hall in December, and included among other items, Dunhill's "Tubal Cain" by a chorus and orchestra of some eighty performers. Hamish MacCunn's "Wreck of the Hesperus," which proved such a success in the previous season, was also performed again. Thanks to the kindness of Vice-Admiral Sir Hedworth Lambton and the Officers of H.M.S. King Alfred, the orchestra was supplemented by several performers from the band of the flagship.

The second concert took place in April in St. Andrew's Hall just prior to the departure of Mr. Denman Fuller on leave. This concert, though on a small scale, proved a great success. The choral works performed were but short pieces, but the solos and part songs met with a well deserved ovation.

During the interval at this concert, H.E. the Governor, as patron of the Society, presented Mr. Denman Fuller with a silver cigar box as a token of appreciation on the part of the members of the Society of Mr. Fuller's unremitting efforts as its conductor.

The Committee desire to express their thanks to all those members who took part in the concerts, especially to Mrs. A. G. Gordon, Mrs. F. Maitland, Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. Goldsmith, Mr. C. K. Lloyd, R.N., and Mr. A. S. Tuxford.

The Society is also greatly indebted to Mrs. Conis for her good work in the arduous duties of accompanist throughout the season.

As in previous years the expenses connected with both concerts exceeded the receipts, the loss being in each case carried to the General Account.

However, after paying all expenses, the Society is to be congratulated on a balance of $327.75, to be carried forward to next season, which it is hoped will have a successful issue as those in the past.

THE NEW REGIME IN SIAM.
A JOURNALIST'S IMPRESSIONS.

Mr. R. A. Lowry, formerly of Hongkong, arrived yesterday by the Siam, Lookout from Bangkok, where he has been engaged as chief shorthand writer in the Ministry for Justice. He was appointed to this position soon after the Treaty between Great Britain and Siam came into operation, by which British subjects, as the result of the abolition of the British Consular Court through Great Britain giving up extraterritorial rights, came under Siamese law. Mr. Lowry was engaged mostly in reporting the proceedings in English in the newly established International Court, in which a British judge, Justice Bussard, sits as adviser in cases where British subjects of Asian descent are concerned, but who a British subject of European descent is defendant he sits as judge, and his opinion must prevail: so that under this system Asiatics are judged by Asiatics and Europeans by the European judge. Mr. Lowry also reported many proceedings where questions of law arose in other courts than the International Court, where the argument was in English and Siamese, but he was engaged particularly in cases where the Minister for Justice, His Royal Highness Prince Rabi, heard the evidence in English. Prince Rabi, who was Minister for Justice for about fourteen years, is, says Mr. Lowry, a very able lawyer who passed with honours at Oxford, and who has done a great deal to improve and modernise the administration of law in Siam. Early last month he resigned his appointment to the regret of all the European and foreign residents in Bangkok, and he has been succeeded by His Highness Prince Charoon, who was for some years Siamese minister at Paris. Prince Charoon is a capable man and an excellent linguist. He speaks English, French and German fluently, and was called to the English bar. Though foreigners may regret the retirement of Prince Rabi, they will soon learn that he has been succeeded by a very capable man.

During the period immediately following the Siamese Law Courts taking over the administration of justice to British subjects, of whom there are a great number of Asiatics registered at the British Consulate, there might have been some feeling that the British Government had given over their extraterritorial rights to the Siamese Government, but there is no such feeling. It is seen that no delays occur in the administration of justice. Cases concerning British subjects are tried before the International Court in which the Chief Judge, the second Siamese Judge and the English adviser speak English. The official language of the Court is Siamese, and the official record is taken in the same language. English witnesses give their evidence in English, and it is interpreted into Siamese, while Siamese witnesses give their evidence in Siamese and it is interpreted into English. Addresses of counsel are delivered in both languages. Most practicing lawyers, whether English or continental, speak Siamese, and if not they employ an interpreter.

Reverting to military progress, Mr. Lowry stated that some years ago Siam adopted a system of compulsory military service in which all her able-bodied male citizens were compelled to serve for two years. Siam, however, does not look forward to becoming an aggressive power. Her army is raised for the purpose of maintaining peace within her borders without intervention by foreign powers. The army is organized and commanded by Siamese, and emptying the Veterinary Department it contains no foreigners. Mr. Lowry had seen the soldiers on parade, and considered that they presented every appearance of a workmanlike and disciplined body, minus the tappings and pipelays. The regiments had the appearance of an army intended for business, and they were armed with the most modern implements of warfare.

Some five weeks ago there was a big strike of Chinese in Bangkok, the Cantonese resorting to the increased poll tax and fomenting a strike which other classes of Chinese were afraid not to join. On this occasion the Celestial storekeepers to a man shut up shop, and for some days business was paralysed. Fearing that riots might ensue, the Siamese Government called out the troops to assist the police in maintaining order. Armed infantry and cavalry patrolled the streets, but there was no trouble, and the malcontents soon started work again. When Mr. Lowry left Bangkok the Chinese were still decided not to pay the poll tax, but as certain factions among them differ, it is expected that they will eventually comply with the requirements of the law.

A feeling prevails in Siam that the Government, which has sent numerous students to England, France, Germany and America, is endeavouring to run the country without the assistance of foreigners. This feeling has been accentuated by the fact that a few months ago the chief and several British surveyors were retired. The Siamese explanation is that the military department has taken over the survey in the country, and it is inconsistent with the military administration to employ foreigners. On the same ground the Government retired all the foreign engineers—mostly Danes—who were employed in the navy, month or so ago, but it must be remembered that the department with which foreigners are mostly concerned, namely, the Justice Department, employs a number of British, French and Belgian legal advisers, and except for those who were employed under the provisions of the treaty made last year with the British Government, none of these need be employed by the Siamese Government. But Siam desires to employ them in order that they may bring her department of justice into line with that of European powers.

In conclusion Mr. Lowry informed our representative that one or two rubber companies had been started in Siam lately, but they were really in territory conceded to Great Britain under the late treaty. There were, however, prospects of rubber developing in other parts of the country, and one German syndicate was already outfitting the commodity at Korat.

HONGKONG LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

A meeting of the Hongkong Legislative Council was held yesterday in the Council Chamber.

The following were present:—
His EXCELLENCY THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING THE GOVERNMENT, Hon. Sir F. H. MAY, K.C.M.G.
Hon. Mr. A. M. THOMSON (Colonial Secretary).
Hon. Mr. W. REES DAVIES, K.C. (Attorney-General).
Hon. Mr. C. McI. MESSER (Colonial Treasurer).
Hon. Mr. W. CHATHAM, C.M.G. (Director of Public Works).
Hon. Mr. A. W. BREWSTER (Registrar-General).
Hon. Mr. F. J. BADLEY (Capt. Superintendent of Police).
Hon. Dr. Ho Kai M.B., C.M.G.
Hon. Mr. Wei Yuk, C.M.G.
Hon. Mr. E. A. HEWITT.
Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART.
Hon. Mr. E. OSBORNE.
Hon. Mr. H. KESWICK.
Mr. C. CLEMENT (Clerk of Council).

Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

FINANCIAL MINUTES.
The COLONIAL SECRETARY, by command of His Excellency the Governor, laid on the table Financial Minutes (Nos. 45 to 57), and moved that they be referred to the Finance Committee.

The COLONIAL TREASURER seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

FINANCIAL.
The COLONIAL SECRETARY, by command of His Excellency the Governor, laid on the table the report of the Finance Committee (No. 5), and moved its adoption.

The COLONIAL TREASURER seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

PAPERS.
The COLONIAL SECRETARY, by command of His Excellency the Governor, laid on the table the following papers:—Medical and Sanitary Reports and Report of the New Territories for 1909; Report of the Assessment for the year 1910-1911.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL, RELIEF OF DUTIES ORDINANCE.
The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the first reading of a Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to relieve the Governor-in-Council of certain duties." In doing so he said:—With regard to that Bill, Sir, I may say that an amendment will be moved in committee to provide that a stay of proceedings must be authorised by resolution of the Legislative Council. The matter, in the first place, engages the attention of the Governor-in-Council, and if objection is taken to the decision by the Governor-in-Council then it will be the subject of a resolution authorising the work by Legislature.

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the Bill was read a first time.

The memorandum attached to the measure states that this Bill is substituted for Ordinance No. 29 of 1909, which was considered too extensive and was disallowed at Home. Its object is to vest in the Governor certain powers and duties which it is considered would be more advantageously exercised and performed by him alone than by the Governor-in-Council in whom they are now vested.

YOUNG PERSONS AMENDMENT ORDINANCE.
The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the first reading of a Bill entitled "An Ordinance to amend the Young Persons Ordinance, 1909."

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the Bill was read a first time.

According to the memorandum attached to the Ordinance vests in the Court the discretion of determining the age of an offender under the Young Persons Ordinance, 1909. Difficulty is frequently experienced in proving the age of an offender.

THE COPYRIGHT ORDINANCE.
The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the first reading of a Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to amend the Law of Copyright."

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the Bill was read a first time.

The object of the Bill is to amend the law of copyright in this Colony. A local register is provided for books and damatic pieces first published in this Colony. The owner of the copyright of any book first published in this Colony as the law is at present has to register under the Copyright Act, 1912, at Stationers' Hall before he can enforce his rights against infringers. Under this Ordinance he may register either locally in the Copyright Register or at Stationers' Hall.

The provisions of the Copyright (Musical Compositions) Acts, 1882 and 1888, which are extended to this Colony, prevent unjust use being made of earlier enactments and give the Court a discretion as to the amount of penalties and as to the costs to be awarded in proceedings for penalties for infringement.

CROWN LANDS RESUMPTION AMENDMENT ORDINANCE.
The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the first reading of a Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to amend the Crown Lands Resumption Ordinance, 1900, and to make special provision for the Resumption of Crown Lands of small value for public purposes."

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the Bill was read a first time.

The object of this Bill is to simplify the machinery provided by the Crown Lands Resumption Ordinance, 1900, in the case of land resumed for public purposes which is under the value of $500.

A power of entry before resumption is given in the case of all lands resumed under this and the Principal Ordinance, and provision is made for the payment of compensation in case of an absent owner.

PROTECTION OF WOMEN AND GIRLS' ORDINANCE.
The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the first reading of a Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to amend the Protection of Women and Girls Ordinance, 1897.

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the Bill was read a first time.

The memorandum attached says that this Bill amends the Protection of Women and Girls Ordinance, 1897, by constituting the Registrar-General the legal guardian of a girl in cases where the girl has been parted with by the parent for the purpose of adoption or for money.

THE HIGHWAYS ORDINANCE.
The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the first reading of a Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to provide for the stopping up, diversion, turning or alteration in levels of Highways."

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the Bill was read a first time.

This Ordinance has been found necessary in view of the laying out of Crown lands, the formation of new streets and the diversion of portions of existing streets in various parts of the Colony, and is based in a measure on the Imperial Highways Act of 1835.

LICQUORS AMENDMENT (NO. 2) ORDINANCE.
The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the first reading of a Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to further amend the Liquors Ordinance, 1909."

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the Bill was read a first time.

The memorandum attached shows that this Bill effects amendments in the Liquors Ordinance, 1909, so as to give a similar rebate in the case of the Royal Naval Hospital and the Engineer's Mess in His Majesty's Dockyard as is granted to the Military Messes of the Colony.

SUPPLEMENTARY APPROPRIATION BILL.
The COLONIAL SECRETARY moved the second reading of the Bill entitled, "An Ordinance to authorise the Appropriation of a Supplementary Sum of Three hundred and fourteen thousand five hundred and thirty-three Dollars and thirty-two Cents, to defray the Charges of the Year 1909."

In doing so he said:—As the Bill is being referred to the Finance Committee, every explanation will be given at that stage.

The COLONIAL TREASURER seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

The COLONIAL SECRETARY then moved that the Bill be referred to the Finance Committee.

The COLONIAL TREASURER seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

His EXCELLENCY: The Council stands adjourned until this day week.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the Finance Committee was held afterwards—the Colonial Secretary presiding. The following votes were passed:—

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Four hundred and twenty Dollars ($420) in aid of the vote, Medical Department, B.—Hospitals and Asylums, Personal Emoluments, Alice Memorial Maternity Hospital, Fees for Lady Doctor for supervision of midwives in cases of necessity.

PUBLIC WORKS EXTRAORDINARY.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Fourteen thousand seven hundred and thirty Dollars ($14,730) in aid of the vote, Public Works Extraordinary, Drainage, Training Nullahs.

The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of two thousand five hundred and ninety-two Dollars and eleven Cents ($2,592.11) in aid of the vote, Public Works Extraordinary, Miscellaneous, Fish Breeding Pond Construction.

JUDICIAL AND LEGAL.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Five hundred and fifty-eight Dollars and eighty-seven Cents ($558.87) in aid of the vote, Judicial and Legal Departments, C.—District Officer, Personal Emoluments, Local Allowance to Passed Cadet acting as Assistant District Officer.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Two thousand six hundred and seventy-eight Dollars and sixty Cents ($2,678.60) in aid of the vote, Police and Prison Departments, A.—Police, Other Charges, for the following two items:—

Rent of Stations $1,178.50
Secret Service 1,500.00

Total $2,678.50

RECREATION GROUNDS.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of four hundred and fifty Dollars ($450) in aid of the vote, Public Works, Recreation, Miscellaneous, Maintenance of Public Recreation Grounds.

P.W.D.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Two hundred and seventy Dollars ($270) in aid of the vote, Public Works Department, Personal Emoluments, for the following two items:—

Temporary Tracer $210
Do, New Territories Allowance 60

Total $270

HARBOUR DEPARTMENT.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Nine hundred and twenty-two Dollars ($922) in aid of the vote, Harbour Master's Department, B.—Maritime Marine Office, Personal Emoluments, for the following two items:—

Clerk $572
Do, Overtime Allowance 350

Total $922

The CHAIRMAN:—There was a new appointment made to the Mercantile Marine Office recently, and the amount of the full salary could not be estimated. The estimates for the current year requires this balance of $572 and $350.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—What is this overtime allowance? Are Government officials always paid for overtime?

The CHAIRMAN:—Supposing he is working on board ship after hours, or on Sundays, or something of that sort.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—Is that invariably the custom in the Government service? In a merchant's office a man has got to do his work whether on Sundays or other days. It does not matter whether it is overtime or not.

The CHAIRMAN:—On some occasions overtime is allowed.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—This is a very large proportion of the amount to pay as overtime.

The CHAIRMAN:—It is not his full pay.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—Presumably he has for some period $570 and for some period $350.

The CHAIRMAN:—I think I may tell you he is limited to $800 a year.

Hon. Mr. OSBORNE:—As overtime allowance? The CHAIRMAN:—A overtime allowance. Of course you must remember that overtime allowances are paid by the offices. If they want the services of Government officers at unearthly hours I am quite certain they have to pay overtime fees.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—I don't know about that; they must be very small. The only arrangement I know about is a personal arrangement with the Medical Officer of Health to command inspect ships after hours.

The CHAIRMAN:—That is nothing to do with the mercantile marine.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—It is an arrangement between myself and the officer in question. I think on principle that a man should do his work whether it is after hours, or whether he works on Sunday. If a clerk of mine refused to work I would discharge him.

The CHAIRMAN:—You can hardly expect a man to work out of time.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—Certainly. I think if they objected and asked for extra pay they would be dismissed in the mercantile service.

The CHAIRMAN:—You cannot expect a man to do work at nine o'clock at night.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—My clerks would have to do so if it had to be done.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—As to the supervision exercised?

The CHAIRMAN:—The supervision is exercised by the party who obtains his services. The party who obtains his services pays the Government for them.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—Then he is paid twice over?

The CHAIRMAN:—Not at all; the other man pays the money into the Treasury. The Government gets that and pays this sum.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—I think what Mr. Stewart says is quite right. The thing might be abused, and a man might deliberately delay his work so as to get overtime. I have known such cases.

The CHAIRMAN:—It is possible that a like that may occur, but I don't know that that has anything to do with the principle.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—It certainly does not obtain in British Colonies.

The CHAIRMAN:—Shall I bring it to the notice of the Governor that you refuse to pass the vote?

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—I don't refuse to pass the vote, but in view of the rule I think it would be more satisfactory to the committee to be informed who this officer is and what his duties are.

The CHAIRMAN:—He is an officer in the Mercantile Marine Office and his duty is in connection with the shipping and discharge of seamen. I should assume that you understand the details of that work better than I do. If a captain wants to get away at nine o'clock at night, it is hardly fair to expect this man to do the work without paying something for it.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—As the thing is expressed here there is a large proportion for overtime allowance.

The CHAIRMAN:—I think overtime is rather a misdescription; out of time or extra time would be better.

Hon. Mr. OSBORNE:—Out of the office hours.

The CHAIRMAN:—Yes.

The vote was passed.

P.W.D.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Four hundred and seventy Dollars ($470) in aid of the vote, Public Works Department, Other Charges, Surveying Instruments.

SUPREME COURT.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of One thousand two hundred and ten Dollars and sixty-three Cents ($1,210.63) in aid of the vote, Judicial and Legal Departments, A.—Supreme Court, Other Charges, for the following two items:—

Library $1,156.63
Newspapers 54.00

Total $1,210.63

The CHAIRMAN:—This is for a set of law reports for the Supreme Court Library which the Government had an opportunity to purchase cheaply. They were Mr. Callaghan's law reports.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—Who is responsible for the care of the books in that library?

The CHAIRMAN:—The Registrar, I think, but I wouldn't like to say so straight away.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—The reason why I made that remark was because I heard that the books in that library were not properly looked after, and it is rather useless to spend a large sum if the books were not properly looked after.

Hon. Mr. OSBORNE:—Will these books be transferred to the new Law Courts?

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL:—Yes.

Hon. Mr. OSBORNE:—Can you give us any time? (Laughter.)

The CHAIRMAN:—The reply was inaudible.

EDUCATION EXPENSES.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Forty Dollars ($40) in aid of the vote, Education,

Department of the Director of Education, Other Charges, Incidental Expenses.

ROAD WORKS.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Ten thousand Dollars ($10,000) in aid of the vote, Public Works Extraordinary, Communications, Road extending along the north-eastern boundary of Kowloon Marine Lot 83 and Kowloon Island Lot 1178.

WATER WORKS.
The Officer Administering the Government recommended the Council to vote a sum of Thirty-two thousand Dollars ($32,000), in aid of the vote, Public Works Extraordinary, Water Works, Kowloon Water Works.

The CHAIRMAN:—This amount is necessary for the carrying on of this large work up till the end of the year. The Director of Public Works will give you any further information.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—What is this in connection with? Raising the dam of the Kowloon Waterworks?

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—The necessity for this work has arisen through the failure of the contractor in fulfilling his contract, and as a consequence the cost of the work has been materially increased.

Hon. Dr. Ho Kai:—You count on the savings? The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—We will endeavour to do so.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—That accounts for the $32,000?

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—Yes.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—Is this supposed to finish it?

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—There will be an amount in the estimates for next year of about $10,000, and I think that will complete the whole work.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—Do you think, then, there is some doubt as to whether you are going to get this back from the savings to the contract? Do I guess that as your meaning?

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—There is always some doubt as to whether you will be able to get it.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—It depends on the security accepted.

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—The Government hold certain securities and I presume they will be realisable, but whether they will cover the whole amount remains to be seen.

Hon. Mr. KESWICK:—On what principle do you let contracts? Do you not satisfy yourselves?

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—The contractor was in a position to carry it out when we let it to him, but since then matters have altered much.

Hon. Mr. KESWICK:—What was the total amount of the contract?

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—$500,000.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—And the security?

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—I think $10,000, but I would not like to say just now.

Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—$10,000 only for a contract of $500,000?

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—Yes.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—Which if he fails to carry out means that the Government is let in for $40,000.

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—The Government will not be let in for $40,000. I don't think it will exceed this amount here.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—And yet there is a possibility of losing $30,000. It would be natural to expect that a security of $30,000 would be arranged for.

The CHAIRMAN:—If we accepted it, no doubt it will be arranged for.

The DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS:—The principle on which we go in letting contracts generally speaking is that we secure tenders from substantial contractors, and we make the security low so as not to unnecessarily tie up the money and hamper them in carrying out the work.

Hon. Mr. MURRAY STEWART:—One can quite appreciate there is a limit to the figure.

The vote was then passed.

APPROPRIATION BILL.
Hon. Mr. HEWITT:—I have not seen the papers, Sir.

The CHAIRMAN:—They were laid on the table at the last meeting.

Hon. Mr. OSBORNE:—I don't think they were. I did not see them.

The CHAIRMAN:—You will find "Post Office" on page 4.

Hon. Mr. KESWICK:—I suggest, Sir, that we have an opportunity of looking over this. I dislike the principle of matters being rushed. I would like to look over this, and I don't think we have been treated with consideration.

The CHAIRMAN:—They have been laid on the table, and you have not taken them up.

Hon. Mr. KESWICK:—Are you quite certain about that, Sir?

The CHAIRMAN:—I am nearly certain about it.

The REGISTRAR-GENERAL:—I, too, am certain about it.

Hon. Mr. KESWICK:—My memory is bad, I suppose.

The CHAIRMAN:—We can adjourn consideration of the Bill, anyway. There is no hurry.

Hon. Mr. KESWICK:—I think we ought to have more time to look over the papers and see what is inside.

Consideration of the Bill was adjourned.

PROGRESS OF THE NEW TERRITORIES.

The following report on the New Territories was laid on the table at the meeting of the Legislative Council yesterday:

4.—NORTHERN DISTRICT.

1.—ADMINISTRATION.

Certain changes were made during the year in the administration of the district.

Formerly the district was administered by a Police Magistrate, who was also an Assistant Superintendent of Police, and by an Assistant Land Officer. The Magistrate had no power to hear land cases and the Assistant Land Officer had no power to sit as Magistrate. The collection of rent was supervised by the Police Magistrate.

In 1907 the offices of Police Magistrate, Assistant Superintendent of Police and Collector were amalgamated under the title of District Officer, but no separate department was created and the District Officer had still no power to hear land cases. The District Officer was subordinate to the Captain Superintendent of Police and the Treasurer, while the Assistant Land Officer was subordinate to the Land Officer.

CHILDREN OF FAR CATHAY

A SOCIAL AND POLITICAL NOVEL OF ABSORBING INTEREST.

By CHAS. J. HALCOMBE

(Formerly of the Imperial Chinese Customs Service, Author of "The Mystic Flower Land," etc.)

THE VOLUME, which consists of 461 Pages, and includes a Sketch Plan of historical interest showing the disposition of the Forces at the battle of Kowloon, is dedicated to Sir ROBERT HART, G.C.M.G., and Dr. A. BERNIE.

Its description of Chinese Social Customs and Superstitions, combined with the insight it gives into political conditions in China, makes "CHILDREN OF FAR CATHAY" an excellent volume for presentation to friends at Home.

Well bound in Yellow Cloth with Chinese Emblem in Gold.

PRICE - - - - $3.50

To be obtained from Messrs. KNAX & WALSH LTD., Messrs. BARNES & Co., or from the Printers and Publishers, the "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS" Office.

PROGRESS OF THE NEW TERRITORIES.

The old type of mud house has been practically abandoned and that a much better type of house is being constructed throughout the district and by the number of theatrical performances, uniform and of you dances which were held during the year.

S. B. C. Ross, District Officer.
12th April, 1910.

Revenue collected in the Northern District, New Territories:—

	1908	1909
Crown Rent	80,095.47	70,752.82 (1)
Kerosene	230.00	226.00
Distillery	2,873.97	2,759.86
Wine and Spirits	3,851.53	3,912.67
House Rent (Clocks)	—	150.00

Distress Warrants	10.00	21.00
Matsheds	50.75	49.25
Pineapples	1,323.80	1,066.71
Land Sales	2,013.80	3,044.00
Stone Quarries	244.00	340.00
Earth Permits	251.00	155.00
Forestry	35.00	3,489.67 (3)
Grave Certificates	—	61.75
Certified Extracts	88.00	164.00
Sun Prints	65.00	15.00
Miscellaneous Receipts	16.20	111.70
Warrants, Rent	281.00	144.00
Fines	1,442.15	1,947.27
Total	93,001.17	97,922.20

(1) Crown Rent of Hang Hau and adjacent villages were transferred to the Southern District. $1,647.67 rent was thus transferred.
(2) Oyster Beds leased for 21 years.
(3) Forestry Licences previously collected by the Botanical and Forestry Department.

B.—SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

1.—REVENUE.

The total revenue collected by the Assistant Land Officer, Southern District, during the year 1909 was $33,978.32 as compared with $28,317.07 in 1908. A table is attached showing the amounts collected under the different headings. This does not include fees paid direct to the Treasury and other departments, e.g., for Kerosene Licences, Spirit Licences, Licences under the Merchant Shipping Ordinance, etc., and does not therefore represent the real revenue of the District. Increases are shown, as compared with 1908, in the amount collected for Assessed Taxes in New Kowloon and Crown Rent, the latter being due to the transfer of the Hang Hau District from the Northern to the Southern District. The collection of rent from the Stone Quarry at Chi Kung Koi, Lantau Island, and of fees for Forestry Licences was transferred to this department in May, 1909. Fees for the registration of transactions in land have been imposed in New Kowloon since October, 1908. No fees are charged for the Islands or the Hang Hau District.

2.—LAND OFFICE.

In the Land Office 1,022 deeds were registered during the year. The following table shows the number of deeds registered since 1905:—

Year	Deeds
1905	681
1906	1,061
1907	714
1908	644
1909	1,022
Total	4,122

The large number registered in 1906 was due to the issue of leases in Cheung Chau Island. The whole of the island was adjudged to belong to the Wong family, and it is let out to various tenants on leases renewable every five years. All these leases were registered in 1906.

409 acres of land was sold by public auction and 52 acres by private treaty. The amount realized from these sales was $1,415.00.

During 1909, 235 land cases were heard under the Land Ordinance of 1905, 7 writs of execution were issued and one person was imprisoned.

3.—SMALL DEBTS COURT.

Twelve cases were heard under the Small Debts Court Ordinance of 1908 and 3 distress warrants were issued.

4.—PUBLIC WORKS.

The new road from Kowloon City to the top of Shatin Pass was completed during the year. The land required for this road was resumed between December, 1908, and August, 1909, at a total cost of $1,118.49.

5.—CROPS, ETC.

The crops in the District were good and the people generally seem to be prosperous. Crown Rent was collected with greater ease and rapidly than in former years.

6.—STAFF.

Mr. D. W. Truman acted as Assistant Land Officer till May, when Mr. G. N. Orme took up his duties as Assistant Land Officer and acted for the remainder of the year.

7.—OFFICERS.

E. O. HUTCHINSON, Assistant District Officer, Southern District.

IF YOU SUFFER

FROM HEADACHES, FLATULENCY, PALPITATION, INSOMNIA, INDIGESTION, LAUGOR, BILIOUSNESS, ACIDITY, LOSS OF APPETITE, OR CONSTIPATION.

a course of Mother Seigel's Syrup will quickly set you right. It is a highly concentrated vegetable compound, having direct action on the stomach, liver and kidneys. It promotes healthy digestion and excretion, expels all impurities from the system, enriches the blood, and thus imparts health and tone to every part of the body.

MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP

Thousands of men and women are every year cured of indigestion and other stomach and liver disorders by Mother Seigel's Syrup. Their testimony, given without fee or reward, affords convincing proof that Mother Seigel's Syrup possesses curative and strengthening properties not found in any other medicine. "Mother Seigel's Syrup speedily cured me of indigestion of ten years' standing," says Mr. W. Henry, 2, Ward Street, East London.
